Keynote

Clare Sierra is a talented artist growing up on a farm in Iowa. She received her college degree in art at Luther College in Decorah, Iowa. After college, Clare was offered a job to display merchandise at Dayton's. At age 46, Clare had a stroke on Easter. She received therapy to regain her ability to talk and walk and resumed painting with her non-dominant hand. Even though life can be challenging, she is grateful that she is still alive and continues to follow her passion for art.
